WAIHEKE ISLAND & AWATERE VALLEY

Three Times a Six World Class Wines Year

Cable Bay makes wine across two extraordinary pieces of New Zealand — Waiheke Island in the Hauraki Gulf, and the Awatere Valley deep in Marlborough. Different soils, different climates, two very different stories in the glass.

Each shipment brings six handpicked Cable Bay bottles from both sites — personally chosen by winemaker Ashton Hendriks.

Retail value: over $320 per pack. Your member's price: $280. Wines arrive — ready to cellar, gift, or open immediately.

Your first shipment includes a welcome letter from Loukas Petrou, the owner and winegrower, and a personal note from Ashton Henriks, our winemaker, explaining the selection.

FIVE HILLS

Why Cable Bay?

The best of what we make rarely stays on the shelf. Allocations are small, vintages are finite, and our most sought-after Reserve and single-vineyard wines tend to sell out fast. The club is simply how we make the best of the experience available to you.

As Matthew Jukes describes it:
"Cable Bay is an ultra-boutique winery with delicate footprints in both Waiheke Island and Marlborough, or more specifically, the edgy Awatere Valley. Awatere fruit, no matter who grows it, is always more linear, vigorous and teasing than Valley floor fruit. In the right hands, it delivers Olympic accuracy and phenomenal freshness..."

Two terroirs, two very different wines, one consistent result. Vintage after vintage, our Waiheke and Awatere wines collect golds, trophies and top scores from the most respected critics and shows in New Zealand and around the world. Named one of The Real Review's Top Wineries of New Zealand for the sixth time in 2026 — one of only a handful of Waiheke Island names on the list — we're proud of a record that carries responsibility and is no accident of one good season. It's what we set out to do every year.
And when you join, you join a genuinely exclusive group, so the welcome always feels personal.

Wine Club members are recognised on every visit. Your VIP CLUB MEMBER status is flagged in our reservations system so the team knows to treat you accordingly — complimentary aperitif on arrival, priority seating, and the warmth that comes from being a known and valued part of the Cape Bay community.

Dining benefits apply every time you visit. The golden rule: we deliver your benefits before you think to ask for them.
